

Call for Papers 2008

Abstracts are due November 14, 2007

Scope & Purpose

Nondestructive testing (NDT) is a rapidly growing area of technology use in the manufacturing marketplace. Manufacturers say that they want more training ... more solutions.

Challenges to implementing NDT*:

- Training
- Keeping current with technology
- Process integration
- Finding qualified technicians

*Non-Destructive Testing Study, May 2003.

The 1st annual Quality NDT conference will take place in conjunction with the 10th Annual Quality Measurement Conference 2008 and will be held at the Marriott Suites Clearwater Beach on Sand Key, Clearwater, FL, on April 28-May 1, 2008.

The program is a two-day workshop featuring 50-minute paper presentations. In addition, suppliers will be invited to present and showcase their products and services related to this area through tabletop exhibits! The Quality NDT Conference seeks presentations and hands-on professional learning workshops about technology advancements, application case studies, and operational management concepts related to the following:

- In-line nondestructive testing
- Basic NDT training for the shop floor
- Eddy current testing
- Ultrasonics inspection
- Crack and weld testing and inspection
- X-ray inspection and computer tomography
- In-line leak testing strategies
- Using UV inspection
- Thickness measurement
- Flaw detection
- Aerospace test and inspection strategies
- ... and more
